

Olivia Lives

Olivia Ceraolo was a member of the Clearwater Yacht Club Sailing Team. She also was involved with ballet, soccer, The Pinellas Youth Symphony and was an award winning author and talented artist but her true love and passion was sailing. She traveled with the National Optimist Team and later went on to sail the Laser Radial participating in many national regattas.

At the age of 14 ½, she was diagnosis with bone cancer and in her case it was inoperable. Olivia waged a strong battle against the disease and maintained a positive, fighting spirit and one that inspired so many of us. Her life changing experience has transcended time. Olivia was extremely passionate about communicating her “message” to as many people as possible. "On October 16, 2004, she passed away at home with family and friends."

Please join us (Zach, Paige and Brooke Railey and the Ceraolo Family) in keeping Olivia’s spirit alive. When you register for the regatta, we ask that you donate a non-perishable food item in her memory which will in turn be given to the C.H.I.P.S. (Clearwater Homeless Intervention Project) to assist their cause.

We know Olivia would be so proud so please make your contribution and support:

OLIVIA LIVES!!

Thank you!! Zach, Paige, Brooke and The Ceraolo Family
